—Mr. John Keouy, the popular landlord of the Badger hotel, has leased the hotel property formerly known as the Davis house, and to-day opened the same as the Commercial hotel. Mr. Keouy has had considerable experience in the hotel business, and no doubt the Commercial will flourish under his management.

—Again we would urge upon the authorities, the necessity of "electing the dogs." We are informed that a dog belonging to Mr. Fred Thrall, of the first ward, went mad yesterday, and Mr. Thrall was compelled to dispatch it. The dogs should all be muzzled or shot, one or the other, we are not particular which.

—The money order department of the Jacksonville postoffice paid one hundred and sixteen orders during the past week, amounting to $1,965.63, and during the same time issued twenty-one orders, calling for the sum of $1,746.66, the fees being $10.40, making a total business for the week of $3,712.29, against the sum of $2,338.33 for the previous week.

A windmill belonging to Mr. Decker, near the Leydon house was wrecked, and the storm appeared more severe to the southward, but we have no reports of damage resulting.

—The Rev. J. L. Jones preached to a large congregation at All Souls' church on Sunday morning, and in the evening the pulpit was occupied by the Rev. Judson Fisher, of Alton, Illinois, who at one time was pastor of All Souls. The many friends of Mr. Jones gave him a reception at the residence of A. D. Sautborn, on South Main street, Saturday evening, which was attended by a large number whose friendship for him does not grow cold.

—At eight o'clock this morning the angel of death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Helms, corner of Linn and Galena streets, and took their little son Harry Hadley, from the fond parents' care, to the haven of eternal rest. The little babe was only six and a half months old, and had never been in good health, but its condition did not excite the fears of the parents until Saturday last, when it commenced to rapidly fail, continuing in this condition until eight o'clock this morning, when death ended its sufferings. The parents have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in this city. The funeral will take place at the house at ten o'clock to-morrow morning, Rev. J. Fisher, of Alton, Illinois, formerly pastor of All Souls church, officiating.

Another Team Stolen.

On Saturday evening about eight o'clock a team of horses was stolen from Mr. John Welch, of Delavan. Mr. Welch drove into Delavan and hitched his team in front of a store, and stepped inside to transact some business. He returned in three or four minutes and found that his team was missing. Thinking that his son, who was in Delavan, had taken them for a drive, he did not pay any attention to it, until nearly an hour after, when he met his son, who told him he had not seen the team. Mr. Welch then realized that his team had been stolen and he commenced search. His son and two other men started out, and after making a circuit of the village, they struck the trail of the stolen team, which they followed through Emerald Grove, and until they reached the flats near Mr. Charles Wheeler's farm south of this city, where they lost it. This was about four o'clock yesterday morning. They at once notified Sheriff Harper, and all hands made a thorough search in the city, but without success. At three o'clock Sunday morning, a team and open buggy was seen to cross the railroad track going up Madison street, by the railroad men who were on duty at that time, and also by a citizen on Madison street who happened out, and it is supposed that they were the stolen property. We understand that the team was worth about $300, both animals were black, with white faces, one a mare six years old, the other a three year old horse. An open democrat 3-spoke wagon was taken, the front wheels of which tracked some two inches narrower than the hind wheels. Mr. Welch made several unsuccessful attempts to telegraph to Jacksonville on Saturday night, but owing to the fact that there is no night operators he could not get word through, otherwise it would have been an easy matter to have captured the thieves yesterday morning.

We All Know.

That water never runs up hill; that kisses taste better when they look, and are better at heart; that it is better to be right than to be left; that those who take Dr. Jones' Kidney and Bladder Tonic have dyspepsia, constipation, bad breath, piles, pimples, acne and malaria diseases, poor appetite, low spirits, headache or diseases of kidneys and bladder. Relaxing a Firm.

On Saturday, the well known and very successful law firm of Winans & Fethers received into business communion, Mr. Malcolm G. Jeffris, who was recently admitted to the bar. The last two years of his law studying was done in the office of Messrs. Winans & Fethers, which gave them an excellent opportunity to know what manner of a young man Mr. Jeffris was. He was not only sober-minded and very studious, but he showed much legal ability and keen perception, and hence gave promise of much success as a member of the bar. In casting about for a young man to take a business interest in their office, Winans & Fethers honored Mr. Jeffris with an offer to make him a member of the firm, which was accepted and appreciated, and the firm will now stand Winans, Fethers & Jeffris. For some time the old firm had been crowded with business and a third member was needed, and it is fortunate all round that Mr. Jeffris was selected as the man to give the firm additional working power.

A Clergyman's Testimony.

W. E. Gifford, pastor M. E. church, Bothwell, Ind., was for two years a sufferer with dyspepsia, in its worst form, until he started on a course of treatment with Dr. Jones' Kidney and Bladder Tonic. Mr. B. E. Smith, of La Prairie, sends us the following details of a drowning which occurred in that town yesterday morning:

"William Fenn, aged eighteen years, son of George Fenn, of La Prairie, was drowned Sunday morning while bathing in a small pond on the farm of Jos. Chamberlain. Two little boys were with him, but were too frightened to render any assistance. The pond was but a rod or two wide and about eight feet deep. The Bower City Band.

The Bower City band entertained another large crowd of people in the court house park on Saturday evening, it being the occasion of the last of the series of open air concerts given by the band this season. The band was frequently applauded by the people, all being greatly pleased with the excellent music rendered by the band. The Bower City band is composed of some of the oldest musicians in the city, a few of its members having been connected with a band in this city for over twenty-five years. It may not be out of place at this time to publish the names of the members now composing this organization, which are as follows:

The City Charter.

The "Revised Charter and Ordinances of the City of Jacksonville" graces the title page of a handsome volume just issued from the press of the Gazette Printing Company. The charter proper combines all amendments since 1893, when the city charter was last revised,—in new and apt phraseology and properly embodied in the text. The ordinances have been completely revised, and all are printed in the volume except those relating to the grade of streets. The index, which comprises twenty-four printed pages, is admirably made, and bears the stamp of earnest, painstaking labor. It contains references and cross-references, to every possible subject treated in the charter and ordinances, and which, for great convenience and accuracy, are indexed separately. This result could only be reached, in our judgment, by going through the charter from the beginning and carefully analyzing and noting section, sub-section, and paragraphs. We think it will be quite impossible to add to its excellence.

The work will stand an enduring monument to the skill and efficiency of our city attorney, Edward M. Hyzer, Esq., to whom is due the thanks and praise of every citizen who has to do with our municipal affairs.

Fully Exonerated.

The public will remember that at about the time Warren Helms was being tried in the municipal court charged with larceny of hogs, the property of Sexton and the Malone boys, who claimed to be one of the number stolen was taken by the Sheriff on a search warrant from the premises of John Snyder in the town of Johnston. Snyder was arrested charged with receiving stolen property and was discharged without a trial. The hog taken from Snyder was turned over to Sexton and the Malone boys. Snyder claims that the hog taken from him was raised by him on his place and had never been in the possession of Sexton, the Malone boys or Helms. On the 23rd inst, Snyder commenced an action of replevin before Justice Prichard against Sexton and Malone boys to test the question of ownership and recover possession of the hog in question. Since then, the controversy has been settled by Sexton and Malone returning the hog to Mr. Snyder's premises, and delivering it to him and paying the costs of the replevin suit.

As Mr. Snyder's name has been brought into the matter in a public and unpleasant manner he feels that a public statement of the termination of the matter is but justice to him.

The museum of which mention was made in a former issue, is in itself a wonder of wonders, and the opportunity is afforded for viewing one of the greatest exhibits in this line without extra charge should not be lost. Y. and has only been accumulated after years of labor and study, and at a great expense the Milwaukee exposition pays all expense of bringing six car loads.

Don't miss it.

Tobacco Notes.

From the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter.
The tobacco crop in this vicinity is looking fine and farmers report that they think it much better than last year.

Wisconsin Havana seed tobacco contains 3.33 per cent of nicotine. Virginia leaf contains the most, and Pennsylvania the least percentage of nicotine.

H. W. Child, of Edgerton, was in this city on Wednesday. He is one of the largest tobacco packers of southern Wisconsin, and was here looking after the growing crop, which he reports in a fine condition.—Herald.

A correspondent of the Chicago Times, from Stoughton, states that there is quite a stir in the tobacco market in that quarter. Two New York agents have been purchasing quite extensively, and sixteen car loads were recently shipped.

Mr. Lucian Palmer, of Magnolia, who sold his '93 crop of tobacco consisting of three cars for $375.76 to Bernard & Son, was in town Wednesday, and reports that his crop is better than last year's at this time and the same is ready for top ping in many instances.—Herald.

Tobacco is growing finely, but the cultivator has many weeds to contend with, and the land has done no damage to the tobacco in this vicinity, as yet. The eastern tobacco markets show signs of improvement in prices, and growers of the crop will undoubtedly be well paid for all well cured and properly handled tobacco which they may have for sale.

A prominent cigar manufacturer of Chicago recently said to an Evening News reporter that "Wisconsin is now sending out a new style of leaf, broad, good stock for wrapping, and is now claiming attention. It is grown from Havana, and apparently does as well, if not better than on its native land. Some smokers predict a great future in tobacco raising for Wisconsin." The Spanish tobacco is what the cigar manufacturers allude to. Wisconsin tobacco is rapidly growing in favor among manufacturers all over the country.

Wisconsin seed varieties are popular in the Ohio tobacco growing district. The Dayton Journal in a late issue says: "Wisconsin seed, being of more rapid growth, is like the Little Dutch, out of the way of all harm. What there is of the way of all harm, is, of course, the fact, most of it being in the sheds. Buyers are in the field for Glensier, Little Dutch, Wisconsin seed, Spanish, and the more forward crops of seedleaf, and the leaf trade is likely to be entertaining right along."
